Suggestions for a Successful and Safe Start for Your Farmers Market Season in 2020

Kentucky's farmers markets have always played an important role for our communities to access fresh, healthy and locally-grown products while providing our farmers a location to market their items. In the face of concerns about the spread of COVID-19 and its impact on Kentucky's agricultural and food-delivery industries, Commissioner Ryan Quarles and the Kentucky Department of Agriculture have developed these recommendations to assist you in planning for a successful and safe season in 2020.

Before You Open for Business

- Communicate with key community partners such as your local health department.
 - Ask your health department what steps are necessary before you can open for business.
 - Invite your health department to be present on market days.
- Educate your vendors about appropriate sanitization steps:
 - Hand-washing at least once each hour.
 - Sanitizing frequently-touched surfaces at least once each hour.
 - Designating one employee who is wearing sanitary gloves to handle money or vouchers and another to handle food, where possible.
- Review your lay-out map to spread out the gaps between vendor tables and create wide aisles for customers.
- Display public-health messages and materials (from CDC and health departments) where they are visible to everyone.
- Set up infection-prevention equipment and supplies, especially in high-traffic areas:
 - For everyone: Sinks with soap and water, liquid sanitizer dispensers, and tissues.
 - For staff handling money and vouchers: sanitary gloves and liquid sanitizer dispensers.
- Eliminate missed-day fees or penalties that might encourage a vendor to be present while he or she is not feeling well.
- Do not schedule grand-opening or kids-day events that might encourage people to congregate.
- Design a drive-through option for customers who wish to remain in their cars.
- Use social media platforms to communicate with customers about your public health measures.

During Operating Hours

- Tell vendors, employees, and customers that protecting public health is of paramount importance.
- Encourage people who appear to be sick to go home and stay there until they are well.
- Discourage the distribution of free food samples.
- Discourage cooking demonstrations.
- Require vendors and employees to wash their hands at least once each hour.
- Use sanitary wipes to clean frequently-touched surfaces at least once each hour.
- Ensure vendors sanitize their frequently-touched surfaces as part of their end-of-day activities.

March 2020

What is the 2020 Census?

Every 10 years, a count is made of all persons living in the United States. It is called the Decennial Census.

Conducting the Decennial Census is part of our Constitution. In the Constitution, Article 1, Section 2, mandates that the U.S. conduct a count of its population once every 10 years. The first Census was in 1790.

The 2020 Census is conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau and will count every person living in the 50 states, District of Columbia, and the five U.S. territories (Puerto Rico, American Samoa, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, and the U.S. Virgin Islands).

Why is the Census important?

Data from the 2020 Census are used in many ways. The population count will determine the number of seats each state will have in the U.S. House of Representatives. The results are also used to draw congressional and state legislative districts.

Another important use of the Census results is that it impacts the amount of Federal funding that states and communities receive. Each year, $675 billion in federal funding is based on data from the Census.

Just a few of the programs that you might be familiar with that rely on Census data include Medicaid, CHIP, WIC, SNAP, childcare, schools, school lunches, foster care, Head Start, and special education.

With Congressional representation and so much funding relying on data from the Census, it is important that everyone gets counted.

Will anyone know my answers?

By law, your answers cannot be used against you in any way. This includes any government agency such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), and U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE).

In fact, all Census Bureau employees take an oath for life to protect any identifiable information. The penalty for disclosure is a fine of up to $250,000, imprisonment for up to 5 years, or both.

The information you provide on the Census is only for producing statistics. If you have seen census records in advertising for genealogical websites, know that it is only after 72 years and only for historical research that Title 44 of the U.S. Code allows the National Archives and Records Administration to release any records.

More information on the security of your answers is available in this factsheet:
<https://www.census.gov/library/fact-sheets/2019/dec/2020-safety-security.html>

Want to know how many people in your county have responded to the 2020 Census?

The Census Bureau has a continuously updated map online to view response rates by state, county, place, and census tract.

<https://2020census.gov/en/response-rates.html>

As of May 7th, 2020, Kentucky ranked 14th in the nation for responding to the 2020 Census. The highest response rate was 76.8% in Oldham County - which is also the 10th highest response rate of any county in the nation.

To help you quickly view the response rates in your county, screen shots with a few tips are available on the Kentucky: By The Numbers website.

<https://kybfn.ca.uky.edu/content/2020-census-response-rate-map>

Responding to the 2020 Census is important for everyone.

The results are used for allocating federal funding dollars, for determining political representation, and the results are a key source of data for our local communities. For an overview and answers to some commonly asked questions, Kentucky: By The Numbers has a brief publication.
